

Z. Klestova

Strengthening biosecurity and biosafety systems is an urgent need for continuing human existence

ABSTRACT. A brief survey of some features of the SARS-CoV-2 virus is given, especially its ability to persist, under temperate conditions, in infectious form on surfaces, thereby contributing to prolongation of the COVID-19 pandemic. The notion of biosecurity is developed, requiring an integrated approach and global coöperation.

Nanotechnology Perceptions 18 (2022) 230–235

doi: 10.4024/N11KL21W.ntp.18.03